

A BRIEF GUIDE TO AUTHORS Updated 2024

This guide is intended for those not accustomed to using a “Guide to Authors”, as provided by more formal periodicals. Most authors now make a concerted effort to follow this format, and it makes my job much easier. Please help me out, folks!

The approximate deadline for submissions is December 21st.

As always, typical Drum & Croaker articles are not peer-reviewed and content will not be edited, other than to correct obvious errors, clarify translations into English, modify incorrect or cumbersome formatting, or delete superfluous material (photos with no captions/legends, etc.). Other types of contributions (announcements, etc.) may be edited to meet space limitations.

As has always been the case, materials in Drum and Croaker may be reproduced unless otherwise specified. Occasionally articles appear in D&C that originated elsewhere. These must be obtained with approval from the original authors and publisher, and proof of this is required. Special instructions on the reuse of these papers and how they should be properly cited may be provided.

I expect and assume that all submissions to D&C (papers, photographs, etc.) have been authorized by all original authors or co-authors, do not infringe on any copyright or prior publication agreements, and have successfully completed any internal review process required by your institution.

Submit articles via email as a Microsoft Word document (or a file that can be opened in Word). My E-mail address is petemohan55@gmail.com.

All Articles Must Adhere to the Following Basic Format:

- Use justified, single-spaced, Times New Roman 12-point font throughout (except for the title section, and figure and table legends as noted below).
- A4 users please reformat to 8 ½ x 11-inch documents (North American “letter” size).
- Keep the resolution of photographs as LOW as practical. High resolution photos make the final PDF file huge and I always compress them anyway.
- Format the title section with the line spacing set on 1.5 lines (not another method) and using centered, boldface font. Only the title should be CAPITALIZED (except italicized Scientific namesii). When using MS Word, go to the “Home” tab, open the detail on the “Paragraph” section, and choose “1.5 lines” under spacing and make sure the before and after spacing settings are at “zero.” In order to preserve single line spacing in a title section (name of paper, multiple authors, multiple institutions) add an “enter” (carriage return) at the end of each line. Turn on the ¶ tool, highlight the symbol at the end of the line of text and choose the line spacing needed. For some additional help with these settings, see “Other Things I Whine About” below.
- Double-space after your “institution name” to begin the body of your text. When correct, the title and headings formatting should look like this:

USE OF DUCT TAPE IN THE HUSBANDRY OF Genus species AT FISHLAND

Jill Fishhead, Senior Aquarist jfishhead@fishland.com

Fishland of South Dakota, 1 Stinking Desert Highway, Badlands, SD, USA

Text and Heading Format

Headings and text should look like the above heading and this paragraph. Use single spacing with 1" (2.54 cm) margins on ALL sides. Please indent/tab 0.5 inch (1.3 cm) at the beginning of each paragraph (not using the space bar!) and leave a single space between paragraphs. Justify the text (see toolbar options and note how pretty the right margin of this paragraph lines up!). Section headings should be in bold (as above) at the left margin.

Please use the following format for figure legends:

Table Legends

Other Things I Whine About

- Please don't use Paragraph formatting to add spacing above or below lines. I have to remove all of these. Start with a single-spaced Word template, with NO before or after spacing. You will likely need to select this from the paragraph section on the home tab of Word as you start the document, as the normal default template may contain unwanted 'before' or 'after' spacing.

| | | | |
|---|------|---------------|-----|
| Spacing | | | |
| Before: | 0 pt | Line spacing: | At: |
| After: | 0 pt | Single | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Don't add space between paragraphs of the same style | | | |

- Use the “enter” key for all line spacings (“carriage return” for those who remember typewriters with a slidey thing on top).
- If you submit a table, put the data IN an actual table. Don’t use the space bar or tabs to “line up stuff.” This formatting can be lost if I have to change margins or otherwise reformat. Center column headings in tables (vertical and horizontal), bold them, and use light grey shading in those cells.
- Use the “tab” key to set your 0.5” indent at the start of each paragraph. It’s likely your default. Don’t use the space bar.
- Use bullets or numbers to make lists. It is easier to reformat these later if needed.

Short Contributions (“Ichthyological Notes”)

These include any articles, observations, or points of interest that are less than a page in length. A brief bold faced and capitalized title should be centered, the body text should be formatted as above, and author and affiliation should be placed at the end of the piece with the left end of each bolded line right of the center of the page. Reformatting that must be done by the editor may reduce a shorter “main” article to a note, or may bump a note up to main article status.

Reviews, abstracts, translations (with proper permissions) and bibliographies are welcome. Humor, editorial pieces, apocrypha, and serious technical articles are equally appreciated.

Literature Cited

In the body of the paper, use this method to cite authors: (Phishmonger et al., 2008; Laurel and Hardy, 2009; Frazma, 1992).

When providing full references/citations at the end of a paper, use an accepted standard style. I’m not a stickler about this. Just make sure all the relevant information is present, and stick to one style. APA format is probably most appropriate. You can enter a known paper title in Google Scholar, and click on the “cite” link below the displayed reference. This will produce an APA-formatted citation that you can copy and paste into your paper. You can also use open-source software like Zotero to extract APA formatting from reprints that you have downloaded. The formatting used for the journal Copeia is also appropriate, and was my original preference “back in the day.” Scroll way down on this page: <https://www.asih.org/ichsandherps/instructions-to-authors>
